

Image List:

1. "Lab Work (Easter Candy)" - 2020
foamcore, resin, ink, xerox. 10ft X 11ft

This site-specific installation includes printouts of the artist's Labcore urine and blood test results that rest upon a field of foamcore and resin tiles. The lab results act as a data-based, internal form of self-portraiture.

2. "Lab Work (Easter Candy)" detail

3. "Gorge" - 2020
Hydrographic Screen Print on Glazed Ceramic - 14in X 18in X 3in

4. "Gorge" (side view)

5. "Missing Blood Types: Chocolate" - 2020
Walgreens digital print on fleece blanket, foamcore, resin, ink. dimensions variable -
Dimensions of this installation is 8ft X 5ft.

The blanket image comes from a web ad campaign by several international corporations called "Missing Blood Types" where each of the letters A, B, and O were removed from their respective company logos. The campaign was meant to draw awareness to the need for blood donors. Through donation the missing blood type letters have the potential to complete the company logo. The "Missing Blood Types" campaign equates the extraction of a consumers' essential bodily fluids as a site of corporate benevolence.

6. "Missing Blood Types: Chocolate" - 2020 (Installation View)